

Welcome to the new Direct Download site!

Contributed by Warlock6669
Friday, 04 August 2006
Last Updated Friday, 04 August 2006

Welcome to the new direct download page for Kyuuketsuki Fansub anime.

I hope you all enjoy the new layout for this site, I realize the old one was rather simple and I'm sure there were a few of you who liked it that way, but I figured it was time for a change.

Currently things should be basically finished, but if you find anything that seems out of place or a link going nowhere or to the wrong place just hit the Contact Us button and send me an email about it. (Although you will have to register to use the Contact Us feature, but that shouldn't be a big deal.)

I haven't decided whether or not to ask you all to register to download the shows. I realize it can be a pain to have to register just to get something that's free in the first place and with the old layout you just had to click a single link. But there are certain benefits to registering. For example, requesting a particular file that was recently removed be reuploaded, or being able to search the site so find what you're looking for more quickly.

If anyone has an opinion on it send me an email and I may put a poll up, let things get decided the democratic way, assuming there's enough of you who actually stop by and read this kind of stuff instead of just going for the downloads .

(I realize the irony in asking you to email me when you have to register to get to the Contact Us page, but if you don't want to email me you can leave a message for me in [Kyuuu]'s IRC channel)

Anyway, welcome again to the new layout and I hope you like it. If you have any questions about how part of this site works, check the FAQs, most of your questions should be answered by those.

[XIAO]Warlock6669